Symphonic Cultural Voice

---

Short Academic Biography

Yılmaz Tümözen is a symphonic composer and cultural practitioner whose work operates at the intersection of orchestral narrative and humanitarian consciousness. His compositions explore themes of memory, displacement and ethical responsibility, positioning music as a medium of cultural dialogue rather than entertainment. Through structured symphonic works and conceptual performances, he frames art as a conscious stance within contemporary global discourse.

Artistic Position

Tümözen's artistic framework is rooted in the conviction that culture carries ethical weight. In an era marked by fragmentation and displacement, his work seeks to transform orchestral sound into a platform of testimony and institutional dialogue. Rather than offering aesthetic escape, his compositions engage with collective memory and human dignity as structural musical elements.

Performance Concept

"Art Is Position - A Symphonic Declaration" is a concept-based orchestral performance structured as a three-part narrative: Memory, Displacement and Dignity. The performance integrates spoken manifesto fragments with symphonic progression, positioning the concert stage as a site of cultural articulation.
